Asian Golf Travel Nation - August 2014

Dear Golf Travelers,

Welcome to this edition of the Asian Golf Travel Nation, the source for news breaking information about Asian Golf. In addition, unique golf playing tips for Indochina's tropical environment, announcements of golf travel promotions, and our latest subscription offer are all integral parts of today's newsletter.

Positive results continue to emerge from the military led National Council for Peace and Order (NCPO) who are overseeing Thailand for the time being. Many corrupt businesses that have preyed on tourists have been shut down and Thailand has become even more enjoyable knowing that unsuspecting consumers and tourists interests are being prioritized over short term gains. There is even a movement among locals to have the leader of the NCPO run for prime minister when democratic elections take place next year. This would be really cool as most of the military officers also play golf.

At the same time I am very happy that SE Asia, with its many key golf destinations, is now very much on the map of golfers from all corners of the globe who are excited about and recognize the region's top golf courses, world class service standards, rich culture, wide range of entertainment and non-golf attractions, and best of all reasonable prices. This total experience really sets the region apart for golfers from all over and is the essence of why golf travel to Asia continues to boom.

Whether it the never-ending smiling Thais, sincere Vietnamese, diverse Malaysians, or the polite Balinese, our staff locals make every golfer on their fairways feel like their 'royal guest'. I will personally guarantee you, who are the beneficiaries of this royal golf experience, will appreciate your trip with us not only during your travels, but also well after you return home and start planning your next Asian golf experience.

All of the countries in SE Asia offer wonderful golf experiences. Thailand, Vietnam, Malaysia, Cambodia and Bali are my favorites. Want to hit more than one hot spot? Then maybe one our multi-destination Golf Lifestyle Experience™ Tours might be for you. Our golf travel consultants can help you plan your trip details to match your exact preferences and budget.

As always there are many golf happenings around the region so with that, I invite you to read this edition of the Asian Golf Nation.

end. Once completed Lakewood will boast 54 holes making it the largest of any Bangkok golf club. Stay tuned for more details in coming months. I expect the new course to be very good!

Lakewood Country Club, Bangkok

Phuket: Big changes are on the way at Laguna Phuket Golf Club and they look promising. The first new nine holes of the redesigned course are open, and the second nine is on schedule to be completed by January 2015. The redesign is being carried out by Paul Jansen who was also the lead architect for the excellent Nick Faldo design at Laguna Lang Co Golf Club. New greens, irrigation, drainage, earth works, and turf are all part of the project. The clubhouse and golf academy are getting a face lift too. And the really good news is this time around they will have golf carts. It will be good to get the course back online. Laguna was one of my favorite Phuket golf courses, and I expect this will be the case again come January.

Laguna Phuket Golf Club, Phuket

Vietnam

Hanoi: Good and bad golf news from the Vietnam capital city. The military related Long Bien Golf Club is getting excellent reviews, not only because it is the most conveniently located and lowest priced course Hanoi golf course, but also because of the excellent playing conditions and interesting layout. That's the good news. The bad news is that the course has such a high demand from local golfers, it is closing to visitors, at least for a while. On the other hand, better visitor accessibility to other Hanoi golf courses as well as new construction coming on line will make up for, at least in part, for this new development. In any case, I don't expect this to last long and I will keep you posted as the situation changes.

Chi Linh Star Golf & Country Club, Hanoi

Malaysia

Kuala Lumpur: The Malaysia government continues to invest heavily in promoting golf tourism and rightly so. The generally off-the-beaten track for golf tourism nation faces an uphill battle to compete, especially in terms of world-class service, with its neighbors in Thailand and Bali. However, with opening of courses like the Els Club Teluk Datai and improving visitor accessibility to PGA venues like Kuala Lumpur Golf & Country Club, the standard of golf in Malaysia is definitely something all golfers should take notice of. Moreover, it is hard to find any other country with such a diverse range of golf environments. From big cities, to tropical islands, to virgin rain forests, golf in Malaysia is available in practically every setting imaginable.

The Els Club Teluk Datai, Langkawi

With that I would like to once again thank those of you who have golfed with us recently. It was very nice seeing you and I hope your trip was memorable one.

 Asia Golf Week - Amateur Golf Weeks in Asia

Hyatt Regency Hua Hin Amateur Golf Week: 12-18 October, 2014

After the huge success of the Centara World Masters in Hua Hin in June, we have been flooded with enquiries for when the next tournament is on in Hua Hin. Good news is we have scheduled an event 11-17 October. Offering a series of 3,4 and 5 star venues including the Hyatt Hua Hin right on the beach, there will be an accommodation type to suit all players and playing the 4 best courses in the area including Black Mountain and Banyan, there will be no excuses for not having a great time in Hua Hin.

Siam Country Club Pattaya Amateur Golf Week: 18-25 October, 2014

Being just 90 minutes from the airport and situated right on the gulf of Thailand, Pattaya is favourite destination for many of our players. This tournament we will be playing all three Siam Country Club courses and throwing in Thai Country Club to boot. These 4 championship courses will certainly show you the best golf courses and conditioning in Thailand. October is an ideal time to be playing these courses as they have just come out of the raining season and all the courses are in tip top, championship condition.

Chiang Mai Amateur Golf Week: 25 October - 1 November, 2014

As our season ending event, Chiang Mai has become popular with the tournament players for a relaxed week in a cooler climate. Many of the golfers enjoy the more laid back atmosphere of this event compared to the hustle and bustle of Pattaya and Hua Hin. The hotels we have selected are all centrally located to the night market and restaurant districts. Chiang Mai Highlands and Alpine Country Club rate high in the course rankings in Thailand and will surely test all the players skills over the week long event.

Golf in a Kingdom News - Laguna Phuket Golf Club Upgrade

Laguna Phuket Golf Club re-opened its newly renovated front 9 holes on 1st July 2014.

The new nine features Bermuda Tif-Eagle greens and Zoyzia Matrella fairways/surrounds. There is improved drainage and more contouring throughout the golf course.

Alongside the golf course upgrade, the practice facilities and clubhouse are undergoing complete renovations. At present only the Pro Shop remains open, with temporary facilities available for golfers at the driving range. The practice facilities and clubhouse renovations are due to be completed by November 2014, with the back 9 holes being completed by year end. From 1st Jan onwards 18 holes will be fully open for play.

Golf Travel Testimonials

Hi Ms Yim,

Many thanks for organizing my itinerary for me - it has been perfect.

I have had a great time and today at Black Mountain was the best score I have ever had there in 7 years!!!

The Centara in Hua Hin, as usual, was wonderful.

The driver who picked me up from the Airport and who brought me back to Bangkok was great - a lovely person.

I will be back before end of year again, work permitting, so I will make contact with you again.

Best wishes and many thanks, I appreciate your efforts.

Danang - Golf Coast Vietnam - A Destination Review by Paul Myers

Cliches and superlatives are thrown around like confetti in the golf tourism industry. It seems every course or destination is the "best" of one thing or another and is more appealing than anywhere else. Such is the competition these days for golf visitors and their perceived well-stacked wallets!

Danang, Vietnam has won plenty of accolades since golf was first played there almost five years ago - with good reason. While it's impossible to say golf on the Central Coast of Vietnam is "better" than anywhere else, the region boasts three world-class courses and can hold its own with any other golf destination in Asia. It's also a fact that the plethora of culture, history, food and sightseeing in and around Danang, nearby Hoi An and Hue makes the Central Coast a standout destination without golf.

Vietnam's fourth largest city may be a little out of the way, but there are now direct international Golfing Tips by Ian Morgan - Drink Plenty!

We are in the hottest time of the year at the moment, so it's important to protect yourself on the golf course. Use a high protection sun block and always wear a hat or visor. You can get burnt even when the skies are overcast.

Also avoid dehydration, and drink plenty of water and electrolyte drinks. There are many drink stops around the courses in Thailand, so take advantage of them.
